

Head of Medical Affairs – Specialty Therapy Area

GlaxoSmithKline (GSK) is a global pharmaceutical company that sets international benchmarks for research and development and has a strong focus on developing its people. GSK's mission is to improve the quality of human life by enabling people to do more, feel better and live longer.

We now have a newly created role responsible for medical governance, relationship-building and strategic clinical input for the GSK Australia Specialty Therapy portfolio. This is a key role within the Medical team and includes leading a team of four within Medical Affairs and Pharmacovigilance for the Specialty Therapy Area

As Head of Medical Affairs – Specialty Therapy Area you will work closely with Marketing and take the Medical lead for quality, compliance and timeliness of promotional campaigns, issues management and medical information. You will play a pivotal role in building relationships with external experts in your designated portfolio area and provide quality medical/clinical input to product strategy discussions, including commercial, clinical, health outcomes and regulatory components. There will also be the opportunity to lead and/or contribute on a Medical level to the new product introduction process. Your exceptional communication skills will assist in developing an effective network and working relationships with relevant global GSK functions.

As a qualified medical practitioner with commercial pharmaceutical industry experience this is an excellent opportunity for you to take on a management role with an industry leader and manage a growing portfolio. You will draw on your relationship building and influencing skills to drive positive patient outcomes and contribute to GSK Specialty Therapy area objectives.

To be successful in this role you will bring strong leadership capabilities and strategic thinking combined with integrity, ethics and commitment. You will be performance-driven with strong business acumen and effective managerial skills including a proven ability to work in and manage cross functional teams

This is a high profile role with the ability to really make a difference. As a valued member of the GSK Medical team you will have the opportunity to excel with the scope and autonomy to make full use of your talents and initiative. On top of excellent career development opportunities at GSK you will receive a competitive salary package plus bonus. Relocation and VISA support provided.
