

Medical Advisor, Senior Manager

Northern Home Counties • Highly attractive salary, bonus, car, benefits

Working in the field of biopharmaceuticals, my client is a leader with first-in-class therapeutics and an exciting pipeline of new products. With research focusing primarily in the areas of oncology, CNS and pain, the company has grown organically and by acquisition to become a truly global player. The UK company is now looking for an experienced industry medic who can help shape and lead the Medical Affairs function. Reporting to the UK & Ireland Medical Director, you will

- Provide expert medical input to the Medical Affairs group, including attending advisor boards
- Manage all clinical studies conducted in the UK, including investigator-led studies
- Provide leadership and line management to a team of Medical Scientific Liaison professionals
- Develop relationships with external customers including key opinion leaders and relevant medical groups

You will be medically qualified with current GMC registration and will ideally have a post graduate qualification. The company will support HMT, including the Diploma in Pharmaceutical Medicine. You will already be successful in medical affairs and are now looking for your next challenge. You will be able to demonstrate considerable interpersonal and leadership skills, and will be keen to learn from and work with other leading professionals. This is a highly visible role where there is significant opportunity to influence strategy, both in the UK and across Europe.

hoggettbowers
people who shape your future

Hoggett Bowers is a leading International executive and interim management recruiter

Please email your current CV and remuneration package to Sue Ransom at ihc@hoggett-bowers.com quoting ref 1000500 in the subject line.
Alternatively write to us at Hoggett Bowers, 7 Breems Buildings, London, EC4A 1DT, again quoting ref 1000500.